"I like all the mountains that surround us. My favorite is Fisher's Peak. It would be a volcano but it can't erupt because it has a big old rock on top of it."
— Troy Coberly, Jr. (Trinidad)

"The location, the friendly people, and the businesses that have a 'helping your neighbor' attitude. We have wonderful cultural events for such a small community and our hospital, MCMC, is wonderful."
— Gloria Garcia, retired director of nursing (Raton)

"I like that it's an old, kind-of Western town. We're excited to retire from Louisiana to Trinidad—cool weather and no hurricanes! Moving to a mountain has always been my dream."
— Jennifer Connors, housewife & grandma (Trinidad)

"The people are the biggest asset. They're genuinely friendly and we have some unique and talented people, especially for such a small community. Also, it's hard to beat our location."
— George Hagen, Doctor of Optometry (Trinidad)

"Leaving it (Raton). I've lived my whole life in Raton, but I work in Trinidad, which has art galleries, cafés, tourists walking down cobblestone streets, the riverwalk, and trees along the main streets that make them very inviting. Although now we're going into a marijuana thing and I don't know how that's going to work out."
— Mike Gonzales, broker, Town & Country Estates Realty (Raton)
