It's apple time along the Front Range

It's been a great year for apples! Despite daily doses of apple juice, apple cake, apple muffins, apple stuffing and apple pie, this Keller household in Raton hasn't been able to keep ahead of the supply. The bears have gone for the adjacent nectarines, leaving an overabundance of apples.

CRIME

Methodist Pastor jailed on domestic harassment charge

By Steve Block The Chronicle-News

Huerfano County sheriff's deputies arrested the pastor of a Trinidad church on Tuesday, October 13, on an accusation of a misdemeanor count of domestic harassment. Bobby Barnhill, 59, is the pastor at First United Methodist Church in Trinidad, and was placed in the County Jail on a $5,000 bond, where he was still being held Thursday morning, according to a sheriff's department spokesperson.

Barnhill's next court appearance is set for 1:30 p.m., on Tuesday, November 3, in Third District Court at the Huerfano County Courthouse in Walsenburg. His Colorado criminal record shows several similar harassment arrests dating back to 1999, though most of the charges were later dismissed. He pled guilty to a felony drug charge in El Paso County in 2004, and was sentenced to a three-year term with the Colorado Department of Corrections, less time served.

Deputies were called to a rural Rye address at approximately

EMERGENCY RESPONSE

New ambulance offers state-of-the-art benefits to urgent care patients

By Steve Block The Chronicle-News

Trinidad's Emergency Services personnel need every tool they can get to help people in trouble in Las Animas County. The Trinidad Ambulance District (TAD) recently got a new tool in its toolbox with the delivery of a new ambulance that offers patients multiple modern services that are very valuable in both emergency situations and in patient out-of-town transports.

Dan Moynihan, TAD's executive director of Emergency Management Services (EMS), said he first

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

Café What'a Grind bustles with activity now that Commercial St. intersection has reopened to traffic

Committed to community service

By Maggie May Correspondent The Chronicle-News

Café What'a Grind is excited to jump back in to serving the community once again with the Commercial Street construction having moved down the street.

General Manager Lorin Manuel stated, along with many other Commercial Street business owners that the construction had definitely effected business, but she remains extremely hopeful that the community of Trinidad will continue showing their support.

From the inexpensive menu, to the variety of options for all three meals of the day, What'a Grind certainly has the right idea when it comes to service and their customer. Morning, noon and night services allow customers to enjoy the many services at What'a Grind any time of the day, and they offer take-out, dine-in, and delivery.

All items are made fresh to order, all baked goods are baked fresh, and the coffee is distributed by Colorado's own Spanish Peaks Coffee. Lorin Manuel pointed out that they also offer free Wi-Fi for patrons and certain specials during the week, such as daily sand-
