'T' Party revitalizes school landmark

Students work on Wednesday morning to repaint the Trinidad 'T' at Miner Stadium before school starts for the fall — a reboot of an old tradition from years past. The Trinidad High School Student Council put together the student volunteers and materials to make this project happen, which turned out to be a great team success.

SHULER THEATER PRODUCTION

'Stars' come out for Raton's Lip Sync 2015

By Tim Keller
Correspondent
The Chronicle-News

RATON — In its 38th annual running, Lip Sync 2015 again packed the Shuler Theater Friday night for a three-hour program of rollicking "Hometown Entertainment," then did the whole show again Saturday night. Six judges scored all 28 performances both nights. When the totals were tallied, KRTN's Billy D Donati took the grand prize for his incendiary channeling of "The Killer" Jerry Lee Lewis, pounding the piano and singing the classic "Great Balls of Fire."

Except nowhere was Billy D's name ever mentioned. The event never mentions who's actually on stage. In the printed program, in the emcees' introductions, and in the results, only the song and recorded singer get the credit. The sets and costumes are sometimes so elaborate that there's no telling who's actually performing. This is not mere lip-synching—it's full-on performance.

Second place was won by a duet from Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton, although some in the audience recognized them as Trinidad optometrist Dr. George Hagen and his wife. Their great chemistry singing "Islands in the Stream" won the crowd early; only a late Jerry Lee Lewis barnburner ever managed to top them. The real Jerry Lee Lewis was in Memphis. KRTN's Billy D Donati channeled him via lip syncing to win the 38th annual event's $200 cash prize and bragging rights.

Four boys performed "Sugar" as the group Maroon 5 with boundless energy and professional polish, putting them in third place ahead of many more-seasoned performers.

It was the second win for Donati; he previously took the $200 grand prize in 2012 singing "Feeling Good" by Michael Bublé. The other cash prizes range from $150 for second place to $25 for honorable mention.

CRIME

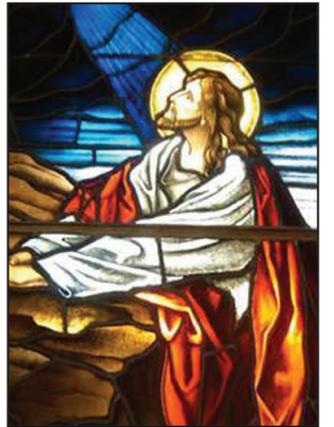

Methodist church burglarized, no leads yet for suspect

By Nick Ruybalid

The Chronicle-News

The First United Methodist Church in Trinidad was burglarized this summer, and law enforcement still doesn't have a lead as to who might have committed the crime.

On June 20, the Trinidad Police Department was dispatched to the church by a custodian regarding broken windows. Upon further investigation, it was discovered that someone had gone through a few places in the church, including the pastor's desk, a linen cabinet, the kitchen, and a cupboard in one of the bathrooms. Members of the church and congregation determined that four pieces of property were stolen and one destroyed. Despite the small number, the cost was still large.

Two pieces of audio equipment at five hundred dollars each and the church checkbook were taken, adding up to just over a thousand

Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton won second place in Lip Sync 2015 singing their "Islands in the Stream." It was hard to tell the difference, but Trinidad's Dr. George and Mrs. Jeanine Hagen filled in for Rogers and Parton, beating out 26 other acts in the judge's scoring.

CITY COMMISSION

Raton plants downtown trees with grant funding

By Steve Block
The Chronicle-News

Continuing its effort to beautify its historic downtown area, Raton, N.M.'s City Commission voted its approval to let Grow Raton, a local community development entity, apply for a 2015-16 tree planting grant through New Mexico's RE-LEAF program, which has funded Raton's downtown beautification efforts for the last three years. Grow Raton would be responsible for preparing, submitting and administering the $6,000 grant, and be responsible for creating tree planting beds and for planting trees and shrubs that might be awarded through the RE-LEAF program, at no additional City expense.

The City would offer assistance to the tree planting project by authorizing plantings in that area within the City right-of-way, providing sidewalk cutting and doing concrete removal to shape the planting beds, provide water through a designed irrigation system, along with appropriate water taps, for the trees and shrubs, at the City Manager's discretion.

David Stafford of GrowRaton spoke on behalf of applying for the grant.

"This is the fourth year we've done this. Funding is available through the New Mexico Forestry Division for up to $6,000 annually for trees that are planted on government or municipally-owned or right-of-way land," Stafford said. "Last year, we had approved, when I came before you, the block between Cook Avenue Park Av-thousand dollars by itself, resulting in the four losses alone adding up to over six grand. Thankfully, the set was discovered in July near Duran Oil by the river bottom covered with a blanket, but the checkbook and sound equipment are yet to be found. It is undetermined how much the destruction to the church and remaining property cost alongside the stolen losses.

Since the event, one other thing has gone missing as well: a suspect. Trinidad Chief of Police Charles Glorioso said in an email on Friday that the department does not have any suspects nor have they made any arrests for this case.

When asked for comment, Pastor Bobby Barnhill of the church said that, though he would like to, the church unfortunately cannot leave its doors unlocked for people to enter and worship as they please due to occurrences like this. "That's pretty sad, but that's the way of the world right now," he went on to say. Barnhill is personally offering a one hundred dollar reward to anyone who comes forward with information regarding the burglary that leads to an arrest and conviction.

The tea set has been returned and is currently being held in a locked safe along with all the other valuables owned by the church in fear of future complications. If you have information whatsoever regarding the crime, please call the Trinidad Police Department at 719-846-4441.

produce the Lip Sync event every August as a benefit to raise money and medical supplies to assist diabetics throughout the region. Her son Robi comes from Albuquerque each year to emcee with his co-host, Sean Green, and their comic repartee is a big part of the show, filling time while sets and props are changed behind the curtain for each act.

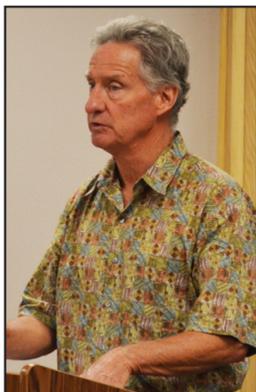

Friday night's show had only a few empty seats in the 450-seat Shuler Theater; Saturday night every seat was filled. It took three hours to get through all of the acts, but no one left early and many came both nights. After the show, some in the audience walked out already talking about entering next year's event, laughing as they considered what song might be best.

enue on First Street, but some money became available through the Main Street program for street reconstruction there, so we thought there was no point in putting in those trees only to tear them out for a redesign. We changed it and put them in this year between Cook Avenue and the corner of Clark Avenue and Third Street. The one we've agreed to work toward, if the Commission approves it, is the area across from the Post Office, on the former El Portal Hotel property across from there, where the old El Portal sign needs to be torn down. There are two concrete blocks that were steps up into the building that are hazards that need to be removed. This is a good way to do that and our thought is that there are already some planters there, which will help us with some of the costs.

"If we get the maximum number of trees that we can request and put in this year, which would be 15, we could do a row between the sidewalk and the curb, which we've been doing at the other locations, and then a second row behind, back into the former El Portal property a little bit, put a couple of benches
